Product Ideas

An app/program that organizes and reminds you of your assignments

App has a checklist for every assignment due for the next week and states how long before they are due

Makes suggestions on what assignments to complete based off of priority.

Dark/light mode for accessibility

Achievement badges or XP system for completing assignments on time

Hurdles (things in the way)

Coding/program development knowledge

Getting the word out about our program

Time it takes to create the program

Front end development (making good UI)

We are only three students with limited resources

Data privacy and storage security

Advertisement and Marketing

Telling students on campus about our program

Posting videos about the program on social media

Sending public blackboard messages to our classes so all classmates can see it

Offering referral bonuses or premium features if you sign up early

Most basic features (essentials)

Let the user enter their upcoming assignments

Remind student of assignments before they are due

(Possible) auto-detect assignments if compatible with Blackboard

Allow users to manually add assignments with title, due date, and class.

Edit and delete assignments easily.

Mark assignments as completed after they're finished